Self learning

Didn't limit my knowledge to one source as I took courses from Udemy, Youtube, Stack overflow and eager to add more sources.

A volleyball team leader led a team of vollyball for 7 years who faced teams like Smouha sc and sporting club

High qualified person

my passion in reading especially psychology books changed the way i see life and made me better at communicating with clients, coworkers, and poeple in my life communicating.

and had an excellent experience when it comes to talking with clients , I remember having frequent customers coming asking asking for my by name so that I would sell to them .

Good knowledge

my photoshop passion started with me editing my photos to become my favourite heros or champions in games and I had amazing resultes with it and kept adding new effects .
"also I made this C.V with photoshop."

Can-do mindset

As I had a hustler mindset since I was little to support myself and my family for instance I use to carry heavy weights to deliver things for distances more than 2km just for a 20 pounds back then . also this one time I tried starting my own cleaning services with my friend using online advertisement and we got our first client and turned out the job needed at least 10 men to clean construction work debris but there was only 3 of us , took us 6 hours and we all got home that fay feeling scammed bc we were underpaid and overworked but that taught us never to agree on price before knowing the job .

Hobbies

Running
Since I was a kid

Refresh your mind

Used to find a place to run at since when I was a kid, running make me think more clearly just 30mins a every while makes me feel good.

Waching movies
Every week

One movie

every week I like to watch one movie so I can chill with my screen and the dark room
